

Blackhawk Internet presents - Aero Group Voice Over I.P. (VOIP)

Blackhawk Internet is working in conjunction with Aero Group of Freeport offering Voice Over Internet Protocol (VOIP) for $29.95 per month.

What is VOIP? VOIP is Voice Over Internet Protocol. The "Voice Over" part is just as it sounds; it is Voice transmissions over the Internet. The Internet Protocol (I.P.) is a numerical sequence that is probably the world's single most popular network protocol. Data travels over an IP-based network in the form of packets; each IP packet includes both a header (that specifies source, destination, and other information about the data) and the message data itself. VOIP is an economical method of using the Internet for Voice transmissions. It can replace your current Telephone at a lower cost.

Who can get VOIP? People, places or businesses that have a verified high-speed Internet connection can take advantage of VOIP.

What does VOIP cost? For $29.95 you can get local, regional, and Nationwide long distance calling!! Aero's long distance will allow you to call all 50 states plus Canada! There are currently no taxes and all of your calling is included in one flat fee! There is no set up fee.

With Aero's VOIP you will have one low rate that will allow you for the first time to budget for telephone service as it will not increase or decrease with the number of calls that you make each month.

The following chart lists all of the calling features included in and available with VOIP:
